

Following his visit to the United States, Sir Anthony Eden was welcomed by the Canadian Prime Minister when he arrived in Ottawa; a warm welcome to offset the snowfalls that have been heavy even by Canadian standards. The British Prime Minister was staying at Government House; and he took a walk in the snow-covered grounds with the Governor General and granddaughter Susan --- to whom Sir Anthony is godfather. He decided that the Mounty's buffalo coat was just the thing for that weather. On the following day the British Prime Minister went to the Canadian Parliament Buildings and addressed a joint session of the Members. ^

And so --- to London Airport --- where Mr R.A. Butler was among those on hand for a welcome home to his chief --- and to Foreign Secretary Mr Selwyn Lloyd. / Before leaving for Downing Street, Sir Anthony had a word for our newsreel microphones /
