OPEN AIR ART SHOW.

1/5/56.

Once again, the London County Council has opened its display of paintings in the Gardens of the Victoria Embankment. A hundred and thirty artists are exhibiting their pictures at this open-air Academy ^{and} ~~--- and many have sold on these at this time. It is good for the artist and good for the public, for here you may find the work of someone who, later on, may become world-famous. Here you may pick up a masterpiece by some budding Rembrandt or Michelangelo -- or even a Botticelli.~~
