

News from Russia headlines the annual May Day Parade in Moscow's Red Square --- starting off with the traditional march past of units of the Red Army and a fly past of the Air Force.

Children who had done well at school came next --- carrying bouquets of flowers which they presented to the Soviet leaders, notably to Marshal Bulganin and Mr Krushev.

And they were followed by representatives of sports clubs and all types of workers from all districts. The only ~~main~~ important absentee was the portrait of Stalin.

Back to London --- to wish bon voyage to a contingent of British film stars leaving for the Festival at Cannes. It included Belinda Lee, Susan Beaumont and Muriel Pavlow; and here is Jukia Arnall, enjoying last-minute refreshments with Tony Wright. <sup>Q</sup> Leading the expedition is Mr John Davis, Managing Director of the Rank Organisation and President of the British Film Producers' Association..... with Mrs Davis, ~~British~~ ~~She~~.

<sup>Q</sup> On the following day the Duke went to Lowestoft. Among many engagements in the famous east-coast seaside resort, the Duke visited the fish-market --- and made a thorough inspection of this receiving-end of the number five fishing port of Great Britain. One of the onlookers found an ingenious method of getting a good look. ~~at the~~

~~and~~ --- In the afternoon --- the Duke poured an ingot at the local ironworks and visited a shipyard where minesweepers were on the stocks.

<sup>X</sup> The newest trawler afloat that day was the Boston Herald; and the Duke cast off her stern-line as she sailed on her maiden voyage.
