

2285-C

(4). TITLE:- WATER NYMPHS.

Picture:- A bitterly cold day -- but they don't care. They're all good sports, out for a day's racing on the Thames at Barnes.

The Junior Fours are all in fine trim for their tussle. They intend putting up a good show.

Are you ready? Go! And the struggle begins. The Furnivall crew creep ahead from the start, and keep their lead for the greater part of the course. Both the other crews make great efforts to "pull back" the leaders.

In fact as they approach the winning post the Ace Four put on a wonderful spurt passing the post to win by half-a-length.

They're Aces -- well aces were always winners as some of you card players know.

An event of importance is the Matrons versus Misses sculling --

--race. This is quite a fierce contest, but a single miss shows that, not having to worry about hubby's dinner to-morrow, has its advantages.

That's a tip for you girls! If you prefer rowing to --
--rowing, don't get married! Miss Chamberlain's win tells its own tale!